We can use a queue when breadth-first search (BFS). First, add one node to the queue, and then every time, pop one node from the queue and visit all the connected and not-yet-visited nodes, and then push all those nodes to the queue, too. The visiting order is exactly the BFS order.